

Brief Biography of Dr Lee Hee Suk

Dr Lee graduated with a PhD in Rock Engineering & Tunnelling from the Seoul National University, Korea, in 1999.

He started his working career as a Lecturer & Research Fellow at the Seoul National University followed by a Research posting at the Royal Institute of Technology, Stockholm, Sweden during 2001-2003. He was employed as a Manager at SK Engineering & Construction, Korea, during 2003 –2007 and later became a General Manager during 2007- 2009. Dr Lee is at present Managing Director of SK E&C Singapore Branch since 2009.

Dr Lee has carried out design and analysis of underground space & tunnel structures for various projects, development & analysis of Nuclear Waste Disposal Facility (in Sweden), Oil & Gas Storage Caverns, R & D and design. He was also Team leader for underground LNG Storage Development and was Project Proposal Manager for Jurong Rock Cavern Tender as well as for the LTA's DTL2 C915 Contract.