

Brief Biography of Dr Win Naing

Dr Win Naing is a freelance consultant in geology, engineering geology and mining. He is currently consultant in quarry mining for 800MW RCC hydroelectric dam project, geotechnical works for a gas pipeline project and a groundwater project.

He obtained B.Sc. in Engineering Geology and M. Sc. in Hydrogeology from Yangon University in 1967 and 1973, respectively. He did a Ph. D. in Remote sensing Geology & Geophysics at University of New Brunswick, Canada (1977).

He joined Geology Department of Yangon University in 1968 and left in 1988 as a Senior Lecturer. He did numerous research works in geology, engineering geology and groundwater exploration & exploitation. He was consultant to ministries such as Education, Construction and Irrigation (Rural Water Supply) of Myanmar Government and also was the General Secretary of Earth Sciences Division of Research Society of Myanmar from 1986 to 1988.

He was one of the founders of Sittoung Geoservices Consultants in 1989 and of GGA Ltd. in 1990 in Myanmar.

He was National Consultant Geologist to UNDP office in Myanmar for Energy, Mining and Environment sectors from 1990 to 1991.

He was Project Director with Geoexploration & Trading Pte Ltd, Singapore from 1992 to 1995. He was with Bored Piling Group of SP Corp., Singapore from 1995 to 2006 as Project Manager/Senior Manager of Soil & Foundation Pte Ltd, a specialist subcontractor (SI, Instrumentation and specialist tests such as CPTU, DMT, SBPM, etc.) for Changi East Reclamation projects, KPE project, etc. He was Project Director for Myanmar quarry project from 1996 to 1998 and Commissioner (PT. SP Mining & Engineering) for coal mining in East Kalimantan, Indonesia from 2004 to 2006.

He is assisting SRMEG in activities involving engineering geology.